COOPERATIVES & CONDOMINIUMS

At Czarnowski & Beer we place a major focus on co-ops and condos and as a result of serving this sector of the real estate industry for over 35 years we have developed a superior understanding of its uniqueness and the needs of its key stakeholders.

Although we have the distinction of being a large firm in this practice area, we have never lost the small firm approach that has been the foundation of our success.

Since board members report to their neighbors, basic accountant representation won't suffice, at least not for our clients. As one of the top firms specializing in representing co-ops and condos, we remain active within the industry and provide numerous resources and tools to both our clients and industry publications. We also ensure that our professionals have regular in-depth training in the complex issues unique to this industry and participate with governmental task forces as well as several other industry-based organizations on co-ops and condos issues. Board members and property managers alike know that they can rely on our representation to protect them from unit owner scrutiny due to our robust planning processes that are key to us timely completing all engagements well in advance of their annual meetings.

THE AUDIT PROCESS

Here's how it works. Over the 35 years that we have worked with cooperatives and condominiums we have tracked everything that can go wrong with a property's financials and then incorporated our findings to the representation we provide to each of our clients as an extra layer of protection.

We will audit your property's balance sheet as well as the associated statements of revenue and expenses, fund balance, and cash flows. Additionally, we will prepare income tax returns for federal, state and city agencies as applicable.

This information will provide us with the foundation we need to be able to assist you in preparing your budget for the next fiscal year. Our audit will be made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and will include the auditing procedures we consider necessary under the circumstances presented to us by your financial data.
